THE RESULTS ARE OUT...NOW WHAT????

The Census 2010 population counts have been distributed -- is your municipality ready to use the data?

The U.S. Census Bureau and the PA State Data Center, in partnership with the PA Department of Community and Economic Development and the PA Local Government Training Partnership, will be conducting 20 open enrollment workshops throughout PA in May and June to cover key ways municipalities can make the most of their Census numbers, from planning for the future to challenging the Census Bureau's figures.

The Census numbers you are about to receive will be used as the base for the majority of funding you receive from both federal and state sources. It is very important that your numbers are correct. Participants will learn what they will need to do if they find their Census population is not correct. You will learn how to review the Census number and how you can challenge that number based on local information you have at your fingertips. The workshop will walk you through the various census items so you are prepared to complete your review. You will be provided with the Census data you will need to start your review. Just a reminder this data is very important and can impact your community as you plan for the future.

Participants will be able to ask questions about their specific data during the program.

There is no cost to participate in these session, but pre-registration is strongly recommended to ensure accurate materials and room availability. Please fill out the registration form on the second page of this flyer and fax it in to 717-763-9732. You may also register online at www.palocalgovtraining.org.
